

SIMON WALKER

Speaker, Author and Advisor on Leadership and the Future of Work

Helping business managers lead through disruptive, technological, social and demographic change

SIMON WALKER

his work

Simon is an expert in future of work and leadership. He is an expert in how to lead people through change, offering established businesses the leadership insights needed to unlock the innovation, agility and flexibility their disruptive competition enjoys.

His particular interest is the impact of technology and social media on the world of work and business, and how this affects behaviours, effective leadership and organizational design. He is, in effect, part-futurist, part-leadership / team guru.

He is also an expert on generational diversity -- the differing expectations, preferences and attitudes of different generations, and has researched this area widely.

He draws from his broad experience of many sectors, more than a decade of research, case studies and first-hand leadership experience.

Featured as one of the top 16 business leaders in Fast Company magazine's 'Who's fast in 2001'

SIMON WALKER

Speaking Topics

Simon draws from his broad experience of many sectors, more than a decade of research, case studies and first-hand leadership experience to make any speaking event relevant to a his audience whatever the angle.

The future of work and it's impact on leadership and organisations

Why the world of work is changing, what impact this has on organisations and how smart leaders need to respond.

High Performance leadership in a disrupted and changing world

Leadership in a world disrupted and transformed by the impact of technology, globalisation and social change.

Cross Generational Leadership

More than just understanding Generation Y – how to engage, empower and inspire all generations.

How HR is evolving in the New World of Work

The key trends, such as artificial intelligence, HR analytics and the gig economy, impacting HR and how it should evolve.

Masterclasses

Simon delivers future-focused leadership masterclasses and workshops for managers, giving them the latest insights and practical tools so they can be better leaders when faced by rapidly changing expectations and ways of working.

SIMON WALKER

key facts

Currently ...

- CEO of Candover Consulting
- Managing Director of Gilo Adventure Sports
- Non-Executive director serving on the board of several adventure and tech savvy businesses.
- Visiting Executive Development Fellow, Henley Business School.
- Visiting Executive Development Fellow, Southampton Business School
- Professional speaker and advisor and moderator

Formerly ...

- For the last decade, he has created, led and built people development focused businesses, including more recently My360plus.
- Co-founder and director of Talentsmoothie, a consultancy on generational diversity.
- Senior consultant to The Centre for High Performance Development (CHPD) with focus on organisational change

Flies from United Kingdom

Speaks to audiences around the world, addressing conferences, client forums and leadership development programmes.

Publishing & Media

- Simon has co-authored several reports including 'Generation Y: what they want from work' which he subsequently expanded upon to conduct the very first such study of Gen-Ys in Asia.
- He is a regular contributor of print and digital articles worldwide and often interviewed for his insights.
- His work and experiences have been chronicled in various publications including Fast Company magazine and in two books; Uphill All The Way and Global Challenge; Leadership Lessons.

SIMON WALKER

what people say

Informative and enjoyable event combining wit, fact and experience of life. It was valuable session for generations of staff. This is one of the best presentations I have attended, the message was very clear and well delivered.

Barclays Retail and Business Banking

Simon provided our team with thought provoking insights which helped us to gain a greater perspective and understanding of the changing world of work. These insights have since provoked a deeper level of discussion between us around the external factors impacting the decisions we make as a management team.

Angela McKenna – Senior Director OD EMEA at CA Technologies

Simon spoke at our recent European HR Conference about the future of work and leadership. It was a great session and provided a challenging overview of the changes that will affect our businesses and their HR strategies.

Stephen Pierce – Chief HR Officer at Hitachi Europe

charismatic • thought-provoking • impactful

Useful links for Simon Walker:

- TIB Speaker Web Page >> Go to Webpage
- TIB Speaker Profile >> Download PDF
- TIB Video Channel >> Watch Videos

Andrew Vine CEO
The Insight Bureau
Appointed Agency

Speaking & Moderating Requests:

+65-6300-2495

engage_us@insightbureau.com